FORMER NOTRE DAME COACH GERRY FAUST TO SIGN BOOKS AT UD BOOKSTORE

DAYTON, Ohio — It seemed a perfect match when Gerry Faust, beloved football coach of national high school powerhouse Cincinnati Moeller, was hired to bring his winning ways to the University of Notre Dame.

After five years and a 30-26-1 record, he resigned.

Faust, a 1958 University of Dayton graduate, shares the stories behind those years at Notre Dame in a new book, "The Golden Dream," released this fall by Sports Publishing, a company of Sagamore Publishing.

He will sign copies of his book from 1 to 3 p.m. Friday, Nov. 21, at the UD bookstore on campus.

When he resigned in 1985, Faust received an outpouring of affection from former presidents, Super Bowl coaches, players and moms.

In his book, Faust admits his naivete and shares his mistakes such as changing Notre Dame's offense without considering the players that former coach Dan Devine had left him. He also talks about his heaven-sent plea for help to legendary Notre Dame coach Knute Rockne.

The book is available at the UD bookstore for $22.95.
